The lecture delivered by Charles Laing Herald delighted the audience. All felt repaid for going out such a stormy night. Many said they would go twice as far a stormier night to hear the same lecture again. -Tiffin, Ohio, Advertiser.

Rev. Herald was at his best when he described the storms at sea, the howling wind, the mountainous waves, the rolling of the ship, and the terrible noise made by the solid shot as the storm tossed ship rolled from side to side. As Rev. Herald said about the hardships of a boy's life at sea, "the his lecture. It would be impossible to write all of the interesting things he told, and those who stayed away are the losers. - Chillicothe, Ohio, News.

STONE ROADS.

By Charles Laing Herald, Audi- Important to the Welfare of the People.

That some people are alive to the chair for the Lecture Course you can importance of stone roads is evidenced Patient Goes to Toledo on by the following taken from the

George W. Scott, of Washington, and Titus Beck, of Plain, along with some of their enterprising farmer friends and neighbors on the line, have been circulating a petition for the construction of a stone road beginning at the corporation line of the village of Grand Rapids, and running thence east on the Kellogg road, to the Hampton school house; thence miles. To this petition already have a majority back up and say that Bowling Green junction of the Haskins road with half has not been told," so it is with Wooster street. This is only reasonable: as their thirteen miles of road would be badly crippled if the one mile of the worst road in the county, from the corporation line to the county seat were left in its present con-

Under a recent law the county commissioners may, if asked in the petition, assess one-half or even twothirds of the cost of such a road upon the entire taxable realty of the townships through which the road runs; and these petitioners so request. In case of such action by the commissioners, which they cannot well de cline, the one-half or more of the cost of this road will be levied upon the general duplicate of Grand Rapids, Washington and Plain, and be payable in five annual installments. The remainder of the cost will be taxed to the lands within a one mile limit on each side of the improvement; thus making the tax so light that no one will know when it is paid.

SMALLPOX

Two Maumee Families are Quarantined.

Street Car

Toledo papers displayed scare headlines on Monday concerning a case of smallpox from Maumee.

All kinds of rumors were afloat concerning the case which greatly excited many people. Many of the rumors were untrue however.

The facts in the case as given the JOURNAL by a reliable gentleman of southerly along the Haskins road to Maumee are to the effect that a young the corporation line of Bowling man of the village had been feeling Green, a distance of about thirteen badly for about two weeks but had they not consulted a physician as he did of not think his ill feeling was of suffisigners: but now they very sensibly cient importance. A friend who had recently recovered from the disease citizens must circulate the petition told the young man that he thought necessary to extend the road to the the symptoms indicated smallpox and being too frightened to inform his parents or send for a physician at home, together they went to Toledo on the street car for the purpose of securing treatment in the city. Shortly twelve men heard the testimony and after their arrival in the city the Maumee man was confined in the pest house.

Dr. Comstock has discovered another case in Maumee and has had the family quarantined, as was also done with the family of the young man above mentioned.

HARDING HONORED.

That Wood County's Auditor stands very high in the estimation of other officials of the State is evidenced by the fact that Auditor Harding has been appointed by President L. E. Jones of the County Auditor's association to a place on the executive committee of that association. Although Mr. Harding has been a very active and influential member of the association he had no knowledge that he was to be placed on this important committee until he received official notice of the fact. case the exercise was written as if its The appointment is deserved and well placed. Pres. Jones will find Mr. Harding a valuable member of his advisory board.

A Night Alarm

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the children's death knell and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never tails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier of Mannington, Ky., writes, "My three year old girl had a severe case of croup; the doctor said she could not live. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose gave a quick relief and saved her life." Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. P. Champney.

FROM THE WEST.

A letter received by C. A. Powers from John Cranker, who left here last week to visit his daughter, Miss Bertha, who was reported very ill, states that the young lady is rapidly improving, and expects to leave the hospital in a few days.

Mrs. C. D. Moore died on Thursday last at her home near Haskins. Mrs. Moore was quite an elderly lady and leaves three children, two of whom are married. The funeral was held from the house, Saturday morning.

The Furry family held a family reunion at the old homestead onehalf mile east of the Empire at Stony Ridge says a Sentinel correspondent. The farm was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Furry (deceased) in 1836, which was then a dense forest and game of all kinds was very plentiful. There were ten children born to brighten their home, who grew to man and womanhood. The surviving members of the family are: Mrs. J E. Simmons, of Perrysburg: Mr. George Furry and Mrs. M. Shook, of Stony Ridge and Mr. Charley Furry, of Gibsonburg. Those deceased are: ney's Pharmacy. Mr. John Furry, of Woodville; Mrs. M. Jenison, East Toledo; Mr. Jake Furry, of Pemberville and Mrs. C. McCutchen and Mr. William Furry, of Stony Ridge.

William Furry owning the farm passed to the Great Beyond about a vear ago, leaving the place to his widow, Mrs. Hattie Furry, which she has sold and expects to vacate it in the near future. She thinking all would like to meet on the old camping ground once more, sent out the word and about 54 of the friends and relatives responded.

The Kiehl-Sheridan tree cutting case from Perrysburg township was tried before Squire Nearing in B. G. Saturday. Mrs. Mary Osthimer has brought suit in the common pleas court for divorce from Perry Osthimer, her husband. She alleges gross neglect,

The plaintiff, who was Mary Baldwin, and Perry Osthimer were married in Bowling Green, May 12, 1894. The neglect of which the plaintiff complains began in 1898. Since 1901 he has done nothing toward her support. Since 1898 the plaintiff alleges she has been compelled to work in hotels and stores to support herself and Osthimer has compelled her to share her earnings with him.

Rev. L. O. Cook, the former Pemperville minister of whom it is alleged he was caught in a room at a hotel with a woman other than his wife, is to have a church trial at Kenton the latter part of this month. Rev. Cook has been cited before the bar of the Methodist church to answer charges of conduct unbecoming a minister. It is understood that Cook will plead dementia, and is said to be preparing a thorough defense. He has a family of several children.
